SUICIDE

Theory In the Case Of Lieutenant Jas. Sutton's Death.

IS STILL SUBSTANTIATED BY TESTIMONY INTRODUCED IN THE INQUIRY COURT.

LIEUTENANT WM. BEVAN
ON CROSS-EXAMINATION

IS NOT SHAKEN FROM HIS FOR-MER TESTIMONY AS TO THE MANNER OF SUTTON'S DEATH.

Special to The Daily News.
Annapolis, Md., July 22.—Despite severe cross-examination, Lieutenant William F. Bevan of the Marine Corps, testified before the court of inquiry investigating the death of October 12, 1907, of former Lieutenant James N. Sutton of Portland, Me., that the latter had killed himself.

His testimony was corroborated by that of Lieutenant Edward S. Willing, who was officer of the day at the marine camp when the shooting occurred.

Lieutenant Willing said he rushed to the scene from the camp when he heard the shot. He testified he saw three men sitting on Sutton, and as he came up to Sutton's head he heard Adams, presumably, who was the only man back of him, say "He's shot Roelker" or "Roelker is killed",
that there was a second flash

LIEUT. J. N. SUTTON
Of the Marine Corps, who was shot and killed in 1907, supposedly by his own hand. Recent developments have started his relatives to make an appeal to the War Department for a complete investigation of the case and the Board of Marine Officers is now taking testimony.

by Sutton's head and the witness turned just in time to see the revolver
in Sutton's hand.

"Are you sure Sutton shot himself?" asked Major Leonard.

"There isn't the slightest doubt in my mind that he did," replied Willing.

The direct and cross-examination of Lieutenant Bevan occupied nearly the entire day.

Henry D. Davis, counsel for Mrs.
James Sutton, the dead lieutenant's mother, subjected him to a lengthy cross-examination. Bevan's graphic story yesterday of the incidents leading up to Sutton's death varied in many essential points from the testimony of Lieutenant Adams and Ostermann, all of whom were present and testified they saw Sutton kill himself. According to Bevan there were three men either sitting upon or holding young Sutton down when he fired an aim and shot himself.

What Mother Believes.

Sutton's mother, in view of this part of Bevan's testimony, last night
again expressed her belief that her son was beaten to death in the quarrel with the officers and the bullet wound in his head afterward inflicted.

Major Henry Leonard, who is conducting the inquiry for the government, had a long conference last night at Carroll Hall with Mrs. Sutton and her daughter Mrs. Hugh Parker. It was said afterward that the conference might lead to an unexpected turn in the investigation.

Nothing has been heard here by the naval authorities of Lieutenant Edward P. Roelker, the much-wanted
ed witness, although it was reported

yesterday he had been found.
It is not thought likely that Miss Margaret Stewart of Pittsburgh, the girl who was seen the evening with Lieutenant Sutton before his death will be called as a witness. Lawyer Davis said today he had not heard from Miss Stewart's father, who went to Canada to see her and endeavor to persuade her to return here and testify.

Sister Incredulous.
As Lieutenant Willing on cross-examination described Sutton, either standing or on his knees, with Adams
holding him by the back of the neck
with one hand and punching him
with the other it was too much for Mrs. Parker, who sat directly opposite the witness. She smiled incredulously at Willing and, turning to Mr. Van Dyke, one of her counsel, said indignantly:

"Imagine a wild man, as they describe my brother, to have been standing up with a revolver in each hand and taking a punching like that? It is wholly incredible."

When the naval board of inquiry which is investigating the death of Lieutenant James N. Sutton of Portland, Ore., finished its third day's session in the naval academy auditorium, only four witnesses out of the fifteen so far subpoenaed by the government had been examined.

L. W. Van Dyke of Washington,
counsel for Sutton's mother, said
after court that outside of Mrs. Rose Sutton Parker, sister of Lieutenant Sutton, there would probably be no
witnesses heard those on the government list, which includes a number of witnesses subpoenaed at the request of the Suttons.

increased.

THE BLUFFTON PAVING CASE.
The evidence in the case of the City of Bluffton vs. The Western Ontario Railway Co., was all in on Thursday morning. In the afternoon the counsel for both sides made their arguments. Judge Mathers took the matter under advisement
and will render a decision some time
next week.

Storm Sweeps Over South- ern Texas and Gulf Coast Country

DELAYED REPORTS INDICATE
HEAVY DAMAGES AND WIND CONTINUES.

MANY STREETS IN DULUTH
FLOOD EARLY IN MORNING.

GALVESTON TELLS THE WORLD THAT NO SERIOUS HARM DONE THERE.

Special to the Daily News.
Austin, Texas, July 22.—The second storm of the week swept over southern Texas and the Gulf
country last night, and delayed reports today indicate that heavy damages resulted. The wind reached a velocity of sixty miles an hour. A large number of buildings, were wrecked. Trains on the San Antonio and Arkansas P. & S. railroad were blown off the track, and it is reported that a number of persons were killed in a wreck near Corpus Christi.

Flood at Duluth.
Special to the Daily News.
Duluth, July 22.—Many streets
are flooded and traffic is paralyzed
today, as the result of storms last night and early this morning. A cloud burst struck Duluth last night, continuing to early this morning, and causing $1,000,000 damages.

Searching for Dead.
Special to the Daily News.
Galveston, July 22.—Searching parties today are seeking the bodies of ten persons supposed to have been drowned yesterday, when a storm
broke over the city and swept away Bellison's Pier. None of the bodies have as yet been recovered. Three members of the Bellison family, C. H.
Daily, Edward Lewis, Ray Tes-
horn, and four negroes are believed to have been drowned. They were members of a fishing party, and employees of the pier who were marooned
by the sudden rush of water. No other lives lost have been reported today. No one was killed at Galveston. Reports from the many summer resorts along the gulf indicate that many cottages were flooded and washed away, but the cottagers escaped.

WHEELER

Is Expected to Take Exceptions to This New Ruling

WHICH HAS BEEN MADE BY THE PROSECUTING ATTOR-NEY OF FRANKLIN CO.

HOLDS THAT LICENSES
CANNOT BE WITHHELD

UNDER DEAN LAW PROVISIONS
WHEN APPLICATION IS MADE UNDER THE DOW
LAW.

Special to The Daily News.
Columbus, July 22.—In an opinion rendered today to Auditor Fred Sayre by the prosecuting attorney of Franklin county, it is held that he has no right to withdraw a Dow liquor tax certificate from an applicant
under the Dean law.

It was generally supposed that if the application failed to answer affirmatively the questions provided for by that act that he could not longer engage in business. The prosecuting attorney takes the opposite view and holds that if the money is tendered the certificate must be issued.

It is the duty of the prosecutor thereafter to enforce the law and procure an order from the courts suspending the certificate. No doubt the Anti-Saloon League will not be satisfied with this decision and will ask for an interpretation from the attorney general.

"DRY" SLEUTH MISSING
And Case Is Postponed—Hardware
Dealers Fined $100.

Special to The Daily News.
Upper Sandusky, July 22.—B. E.
Drake of Columbus, father of Detective
W. B. Drake, arrived last night
after searching Columbus, Toledo, Lima, Bucyrus and other cities for his son, who is the missing chief witness in the liquor cases here.

The Joan Sawyer case, in which goods were seized, was heard today,
but no decision given. Philip and Minor Gottfried, in whose hardware store three wagon loads of liquor was found, having pleaded guilty, were fined $100 and costs.

Charles Hunkeler, Sr., was fined $200 and costs, but will appeal.

AGENT IS FINED

For Furnishing Liquor in Dry Territory on Order of Purchase.

Special to The Daily News.
Ironton, July 22.—Judge Corn of the common pleas court, rendered an important decision today when he found Joann Slusher guilty of furnishing liquor in a dry territory and fined him $50 and costs. Slusher took an envelope containing an order for whiskey and the money to pay for same to Ashland and brought the whiskey back to William Wolfe, who had sent for it. Wolfe paying the

INDICTMENT REFUSED
Against Tennesseean Charged With Selling Liquor from Locker.

Special to The Daily News.
Nashville, Tenn., July 22.—The grand jury here today refused to indict Matt Wilson and his secretary, charged with running a locker and selling intoxicating liquors. The evidence showed that the liquor was purchased outside this state, and was merely placed in storage in the locker.

COMMITTS DOUBLE CRIME.

Jealous Toledoan Shoots Woman
and Kills Himself.

Special to the Daily News.
Toledo, O., July 22.—In a jealous rage, Paul Dunkerson, aged 24, committed suicide by shooting himself
through the head after he had shot
and probably fatally wounded Mrs.
Anna Koester at her home yesterday afternoon. About 5 o'clock Dunker-son entered the Koester home. Shortly after several shots were heard by neighbors, and Mrs. Koester ran from the house with her head and face covered with blood from a bullet wound in her head.

After Mrs. Koester was taken care of the neighbors heard another shot in the Koester house. Rushing in they found Dunkerson lying on the floor of a room in a pool of blood.
A 32-caliber revolver lay at his side.
He died instantly.

MOTHER

Of Harry K. Thaw Issues A Book On the Famous Murder Case

SAYS A "COWARDLY COMBINA-TION" WAS FORMED TO PRE-VENT TRIAL OF HER SON

BECAUSE THEY FEARED
EXPOSURES WOULD COME

DECLARES THAT HARRY IS SAFE
AND THAT ATTY. JEROME
BELIEVES HIM SAFE.

Special to The Daily News.

New York, July 22.—Harry Thaw's mother has issued her book in which she attacks the courts. District Attorney Jerome and all others connected in any way with the prosecution of her son for the murder of Stanford White or with keeping him in prison at Matteawan
since he escaped conviction on the plea of insanity. She has mailed copies to many newspapers. The title is "The Secret Unveiled." She says:

When I returned from Europe in July, 1906, I found a cowardly combination of men of professional standing, with dis-appointed blackmailers, perjurers and others all working in the interest of the very rich companions of Stanford White,
to prevent a trial which would result in exposure. They set to work to blacken the reputation of my son, an average young man with a chivalrous nature. Then the entire family living and dead, was attacked by slandering falsehoods. They pretended my son had delusions regarding those three infamous men used by Stanford White and his companions in their orgies. Judge from these unlooked for disclosures and from the powerful influence of these miserable degenerates of the corruption behind this persecution."

She declares Thaw's confinement
in Matteawan "illegal imprisonment that would wreck most men with fortitude."

Criticizing the courts, she says the five appellate judges handed down three separate opinions, two of which must be wrong. The opinion of Judge Dowling was based on the testimony of one of the most unreliable witnesses in the case. There could be no denunciation too severe for the Klusman judge who would dare suggest a sentence so unjust and cruel
and so violative of every constitutional safeguard. Every doctor who has examined my son seventeen instances says Thaw was and is sane. He never had any delusions and no patient who never. Nothing is more obvious than that Jerome also believes him sane or he would not have so persistently sought to prevent a hearing on his sanity."

No attempt is made at a real review of the case. Mrs. Thaw only quotes from the arguments used in her son's defense.

SECOND FIRE IN THE YEAR.

Fire Marshal Investigating Mysterious Marietta Blaze.

Special to The Daily News.
Marietta, July 22.—For the second time within a year a fire of suspicious origin destroyed the Marietta Phonograph company's store late last night. The loss is $15,000, fully insured. The fire tonight spread to the Anderson Bros.' automobile garage and Hyde & Sons' plumbing establishment doing considerable damage.

The Bellevue hotel was threatened but saved after a hard fight, as were the other buildings. The deputy state fire marshal here has started a rigid investigation.

PRIMARY

Election Law Is Discussed By Secretary Of State

VACANCIES ON THE PARTY TICK-ETS CANNOT BE FILLED BY APPOINTMENTS.

LAWRENCE COUNTY ROW
HAS BEEN ADJUSTED.

DELAWARE COUNTY MAN HAS NO CHANCE TO SECURE AP-POINTMENT IN HIS COUNTY.

Special to The Daily News.

Columbus, O., July 22.—In passing upon questions raised concerning the coming primary elections under the new law enacted by the general assembly, Secretary of State Carmi-A. Thompson, as chief supervisor of election machinery, Wednesday laid down two important rulings. The first was whether petitions could be made out for a whole ticket as well as for an individual candidate for a nomination. The convention has been made that this could not be done and that the law required a separate petition for each candidate for the several offices to be filled. The contrary view is taken by Secretary Thompson, who says that the law is very clear upon this point. The utmost liberality is extended to petitioners and to prospective candidates
in this matter and other individuals or groups may be placed upon the nomination papers. It is the lookout of the voter if he signs for more than one man when he affixes his signature to a paper.

The other question came from a number of counties from the representatives of the minority parties.
Fearing that because of their sparse
numbers and the lack of sacrificing patriotism that they would not be able to secure a full ticket at the official primaries, they asked the question whether, after the election,
the party committee could not fill in the blanks by appointment. While this seems plausible, Secretary Thompson holds that the law does not permit it. In his opinion he says:

"In my opinion, the committee

Game Is Now Being Played By Strikers and Employers

AN ADJUSTMENT OF THE TROUBLE SEEMS FAR OFF.

STRIKERS CHARGE GRAFT
AND BAD TREATMENT.

WHILE THE STEEL COMPANY OF-FICIALS, IN TURN, DENY AC-CUSATIONS OF MEN.

Special to The Daily News.
Pittsburg, July 22.—The strike of the employes of the Pressed Steel Car company has resolved itself into a waiting game on the part of both the strikers and the car company officials.

After two conferences today, between counsel for the car company
and counsel for the strikers, it was announced that no settlement has been reached. The conferences were explained as attempts on the part of the strikers to show the company officials evidence of graft, underpay
and the general abuse received at the hands of minor employes of the car
company at the Schoenerville plant.

Attorney Beal, appearing for the car company, stated that the complaints in a large degree were misunderstandings with the timekeep-
ers. Attorney McNair, for the strikers, claimed, however, that the men had suffered untold wrongs at the hands of the car company officials,
and that today's conference, as far as
the strikers' side was concerned,
was partially successful, inasmuch as the car company promised to investigate certain claims of underpay.

A mass meeting was held late yesterday, and the men decided not to return to work until the company agrees to their demands. The men also declared themselves as unanimously in favor of a peaceful pursuit
of their claims against the company,
and pledged themselves to conduct the strike from now on without violence or resort to riot.

Sheriff Gumbert announced that saloon keepers in and about McKee's locks would be allowed to open their places of business tomorrow. The sheriff states that the saloon keepers must not serve liquors to any one in quantity, and must exercise discretion.

The hearings of the alleged strike
leaders arrested last week on charges of inciting to riot and threatening to kill are scheduled for tomorrow. It is thought all of the 29 men being held by the authorities will be placed under bond to await hearings in the higher courts.

Few men were at work at the car
company's plant Wednesday.

cent City, indicted Dr. William Miller, Mrs. J. B. Saylor and John Grun-den late Wednesday, on a charge of murder. Ira Grunden was indicted

is thought a special term of court will be called to try the cases.

MINE SUPERINTENDENT

Almost Lost His Life Deep in the Bowels of the Earth.

Special to The Daily News.
Joplin, Mo., July 22.—After working hours today, W. H. Hogue, superintendent of the Evanville No. 1
mine, was lowered by an inexperienced
hoisterman to examine a pump 250 feet below the earth's surface.
When Hogue wanted to come up he rang twice and the signal cord broke.
Two rings mean to lower. He was plunged down into the dump, where he fought rapidly rising water for his life until the regular hoisterman,
a half hour later, pulled him out.

revolution that had taken place in Protone is a powerful inducer of makes perfect the assimilation of builds up muscles and solid, healthy flesh, and rounds out the figure.

Dr. Wiley's Summer Diet Advice
Eat sparingly.
Eat anything you like.
Don't take up gastronomic fads.
Don't fill your stomach with ice water.
Don't get the soft drink habit.

By Hearst News Service.
Washington, July 22.—"Eat anything that you ordinarily eat, but do not eat so much of it. Don't take up any vegetarian or other fads during hot weather."

These are the two most important rules laid down by Dr. Harvey W.
Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, for table use in hot weather.

"I would add to those," continued
the famous food expert, "advice
against the frequent use of ice water when you are warm. You have heard the old adage—

"Full many a man both young and old
Has gone to his sarcophagus
By pouring water icy cold
Adown his hot asophagus."

"Well, there is more truth than poetry in that rhyme. The soft drink habit is to be deplored also. In our investigations of soda fountain
drinks we found more than 100 hercaine sold every counter to the public contained caffeine. If our children are to be allowed to take caffein into their systems, it is best that they should get it at home in the form of tea and coffee. But thousands of parents who would not think of allowing their little boys and girls to have either tea or coffee, will give them money every day and several times a day in hot weather to run to the soda fountain at the corner drug store, where they become victims of the caffeine habit."

"I consider the washing of fruits and vegetables, especially those that are to be eaten raw, of the greatest importance at all times of the year,
and especially during the summer.
Every head of lettuce, every radish
every apple and pear and berry that we buy at the market carries in from the field millions upon millions of microbes upon its surface. All truck vegetables that have been fertilized with stable cleanings are especially dangerous. If I had my way about it, manure should never be used for fertilizing any vegetables except the grains and cereals which are narrowed far away the ground in which they grow. The green apple which has come into unenviable notoriety
because of the colic it is supposed to give the youngster who eats it, is really not as guilty as generally believed. The microbes on the skin of the apple in all probability cause the trouble. The chances are that not more than one boy in a hundred who eats green apples ever gets the colic anyway. I think it is largely a myth."

"As the human frame does not need so much fuel to maintain heat
during the summer time as during the colder months, it is only reasonable to reduce the amount of food taken into the stomach. I have no use for a vegetarian, fruitarian and other fads. The human system was built for a mixed diet."

Chief Chemist Wiley has ideas on other subjects besides What is Whiskey? and summer dieting. He knows something about mothers and babies.

"The American mother is becoming a better mother," he said today.
"It is no longer fashionable to turn babies over to nurses entirely, and I hope to see the day when all mothers will realize that the most important work they can do is the proper rearing of their children."

"The fashion has changed, and it is a lucky thing for the coming generation that it is so. Not long ago it was considered beneath the dignity of most fashionable women to care
for their children or to give them their natural food. Now it is different. Even the Queen of Spain started in to treat her baby right, and it left to her own instincts and inclinations, she would have done her whole duty by the infant. But out estimate got in its work and I understand that she was compelled to abandon the baby to the care of a professional mother. I hope that the next Queen of Spain will have the backbone to follow her maternal instincts."

"There is no subject confronting
the professions today that is as important to the world as the proper feeding of the infant generation. Of course a great many babies are devoted the benefits of natural food, either through their own inability to assimilate what their mothers give them or through some unfortunate physical defect of the mothers themselves. It is next to impossible to

...the recurrent discovery of "Jan-anese spies," a naval authority has observed, is almost invariably coincident with the assembling of naval vessels. When the war vessels gather at rendezvous, the "spies" gather also, and for a week the local newspaper correspondent writes columns about the mysterious movements of the little brown men from the Orient.

This disposition on the part of the American public to see spy whenever a person of small stature and brown skin crosses their horizon, is somewhat of an affliction to Japanese in American, if one may believe the story that is told of Masanao Hanahara, secretary of the Japanese embassy. The story has not the earmarks of authority and everyone seems to have heard it from someone else, but it is a good one.

A congressman was giving a reception and hired for the special occasion a butler who was to officiate at the front door. The butler, as afterward appeared, was new at the social game in Washington.

The reception went on smoothly;
the rooms were filling and the con-
gressman's wife was laying the soles
to her soul that nothing was going amiss when the sound of a loud voice engaged her ears. The host was dispatched to quell the disturbance and upon investigation found the hired butler confronting little Hanahara
and storming excitedly.

"What in heaven's name does this mean?" he said to the butler, after getting Hanahara past the barrier.

"Mean?" shouted the butler. "It means that so damn Japanese spy gets into this house while I'm on the job."

It's true that no one, not even Hanahara himself, will stand for this story, but it's not altogether unlike what happened at Provincetown
when the fleet was gathering for the summer maneuvers. The Japanese collected there in numbers, sufficient,
apparently, to stir the local correspondent to action. A naval officer who has commanded ships in every ocean, explained it this way. In the summer time there is a rush of Japanese for jobs on yachts and privately owned vessels. Some get the jobs on yachts and many don't. Those who were thrown down or fired this summer went up to Provincetown,
very likely to see what luck they might have with the fleet. So far as their being well dressed is concerned, it is extremely probable that they were. Few Japs don't sport stewards and cabin boys. They take to patent leather shoes and college
craft clothes naturally.

Technically speaking, there is no
such thing as a spy in time of peace.
In nine cases out of ten there is no objection whatever to the presence of Japanese or persons of any nationality whatever in the situations
in which the zealous local correspondent finds them. In as many cases the information supposed to be on the part of the Japs can be obtained from many official sources by the mere asking for it. And it is a safe wager that the Japanese naval intelligence office knows much more about the battleships of the fleet
than any casual observer disguised
as a cabin boy could discover.

FESTIVAL.
Special to the Daily News.
Berlin, July 22.—It is not too much to say that this year's operatic festival at Bayreuth, which opens tonight with a performance of "Lohengrin," has attracted wider attention
among music lovers than any previously held. Bayreuth is today a veritable Mecca for the Wagnerian devotees of the world, and in consequence Berlin is almost depopulated of its admirers of grand opera. Hundreds of Americans, many of whom crossed the ocean with the one end
in view of attending the Bayreuth festival, left Berlin today for the Bavarian city.

Tonight's performance of "Lohengrin" will not be the only opportunity to hear that opera in the magnificent Bayreuth opera house this season as it will be repeated four times during August. "Parsifal" is to be sung seven times during the festival the first time tomorrow night. There will be two representa-

Second Day Saw Another Good Crowd and With Keen Finishes

Gamar, Hoosier Brown Stallion, Was the Spectacular Star

SENSATIONAL TIME WAS RECORDED IN THE TROTTING CLASS EVENT.

DRIVER ALBIN HAD THE DERRICK USED UPON HIM.

PEARL PAULINE HAD A ROMPING TIME OF IT IN THE 2:21 TROT.

By W. J. GALVIN.

The second day of the summer race meeting at the Lima Driving Park yesterday afternoon was fully as much of a success as the first day, a big crowd being out. Those who wended their way to the beautiful race course were repaid by seeing three interesting races, in which the results were often in doubt, and they were also repaid again by seeing the fastest three heats trotted over a half-mile track this year, the track race trotting record being equalled as well.

Gamar, the little brown stallion from Indiana, was the bright particular star of the afternoon. There were those in the crowd who took on a worried look when the little trotter made a long running break in the first heat, and they were relieved when he just beat the flag, but only by a close margin. Then he settled down to business and there was nothing further doing as far as the other horses in the race were concerned.

The afternoon's racing also brought forth a little surprise when the judges removed driver Wm. Albin of Springfield, from behind Maconda, in the 2:11 pace and put up the veteran Ed Abrams, of Findlay. Abrams took the mount in the fourth heat and proceeded to go right out and win, which was exactly the thing that the crowd wanted him to do. He was greeted with hearty cheers at the end of each heat which he won and there was no doubt where the sentiment of the crowd was.

The first race of the afternoon was the 2:18 trot, which was destined to bring forth the sensational time of the year in the trotting line. Four trotters answered the call and everybody expected to see Gamar, the handsome little Indiana stallion, simply romp away with the race. Therefore it was the surprise when Line Maconda, a gelding from the Al Cummins stable little thought of, romped ahead the first heat, Gamar had gotten away bad, while Line March had the best of the break. Gamar began to brush at the quarter and fairly ate up the turn, when he made a break, being "runk" and he ran a quarter of a mile before he settled down to a trot. It then kept Dickerson busy to hustle him along quick enough to beat the flag, but he accomplished the feat, although the little horse made another break right at the seven eighth pole, but caught almost as quickly. Ruth Sphinx and Line March were in the meantime battling out in front and Line March came off the victor.

The second heat saw Gamar on the trot and there was nothing to it but the little fellow. Before a quarter of the distance had been passed he had trotted all the others in the ground and was out in front sailing like a bird. That he was stepping some was shown when he landed at the wire in 2:12½, equalling the Lima track trotting record. Little Royal was the nearest to him and she was lengths back. Ruth Sphinx was almost left at the post, and although distanced was left in by the judges because of her poor start.

The second heat Kittie Royal tore away and tried to outrun Gamar away from the wire. Dickerson indulged her with the lead to the half-mile stand in 1:06 and then pulled up to her, stepped around and went on about his business, again having a lot of open daylight behind him when he flashed across under the wire. In this heat Line March acted as if he was unbalanced, did not strike a square trot and was a double distance out. As a result he lost the second money which he had secured tied up, and all he would have had to do to win it was to have beaten the flag twice more.

The time in this event was really sensational. The stallion stepped it off in 2:12½, 2:13½ and 2:13½, and as this is yet July, and not late in the season, it is all the more noteworthy.

The 2:11 pace furnished a lot of fireworks and there was all kinds of excitement before the event was closed late in the evening. The old gelding Raoul W., 2:10½, which has been racing so long his name has become a household word, surprised everybody by going out and rolling off the first two heats in big time. The first round he stepped in 2:10½ and by the way of showing he had some "brush" left, flew over to the eight the second heat in 15½ seconds. At the last end of the second heat he was tiring however and the third round saw his finish. Billy Foster caught up with him at the three-quarters and beat him home, although Wilson drove the half-brother to the noted Highball just as hard as he knew how. In the meantime those who thought Maconda was suspiciously far back demanded a change of administration behind the little Springfield mare and when the horses appeared for the fourth heat Ed. Abrams was asked by the judges to take charge of the steering gear and Driver Albin was invited to a seat on the ground.

Abrams lost no time in getting busy and kept the mare second to the half. Going down the back stretch the second time he commenced to drive Maconda and she responded by passing Billy Foster and soon assumed command. The little mare won rather easily and then came back and captured the fifth heat without much effort. This ended the race, under the five heat rule, giving the mare first honors.

There wasn't enough of a contest about the 2:21 trot to speak about. Nine good acting trotters answered the call and none were distanced, but they might as well have been as far as having a chance to win first money was concerned. Pearl Pauline driven by the veteran New York reinsman, Amos Rathbun, was never in danger of losing and when he got ready each heat turned on the speed wheel a little stronger and thereafter rode in front.

MODEL BOY CITY

HAS BEEN ESTABLISHED ON BANKS OF LAKE MICHIGAN.

Special to the Daily News.
Detroit, July 22.—Under the direction of Judge Brown, of Salt Lake City, a model boys' city was established today at Pine Lake, near Charlevoix, Mich. The "play-like" municipality will be in full swing until August 14, and during the intervening period more than 1,000 boys from twenty states will occupy tents of the miniature city. They will print a newspaper, conduct a bank and a grocery, organize a common council, political parties and courts and hold elections, the idea being to instruct the boys in "fair play civics."

J., July 22.—An investigation into the causes of the growing disuse for transportation purposes of the Delaware and Raritan canal will be commenced today at Sea Girt by the special Senate committee appointed for that purpose. Of late there has been a marked decadence of the canal as a waterway, and manufacturers and mill owners along the canal will be asked to explain the reason.

City Solicitor Rogers walks down street just like he did before the great plague.

City Engineer Brice must have a terrible time knowing just what he told the other fellow the day before.

The Best Bet—That neither the Democrats nor Republicans will make the paving scandal a campaign plank.

No, dear reader, politics had nothing to do with it. It was just a little family affair among Flisk, Hays, Wilson, Brice and Rogers, your representatives, who advised Market street property owners to "leave it to them."

And the morning press can't see any wrong to the West End, though its shout about the other streets was terrible; terrible, perfectly terrible. Then we thought Campbell had an asphalt plant down around southern Oklahoma somewhere.

At last there is work for all the sleuths of the county capitol. Go to the City Hall and start delving into it—ye Bowersocks, Baxters, Partons, Ernsts, Tolans, Phalens, O'Briens, and—well all of you.

It is yet a question whether the Board of Public Service is a legal body after August first; and if it is not, how can a paving award be made which is to be completed under another administration.

Now if Mayor Becker should be re-elected, would he name Mr. Flisk as Director of Public Service and Mr. Hays as Director of Public Safety? This being the new Board of Control, would a vigilance committee be required? But don't worry; there won't be enough public work left over to interest even a city solicitor.

BIOGRAPHICAL CALENDAR

Gaspard de Coligny, admiral of France and leader and martyr of the Huguenots, was born in Châtillon-sur-Loire 322 years ago today. As a military and naval leader, he distinguished himself while yet a young man, taking a heroic part under Francis I. in the battle of Ceresoles, and under Henry II., who made him colonel-general of the French infantry and in 1552 admiral of France.

After the death of Henry II., the intrigues of Catherine d'Medici led him to oppose himself at the head of the Calvinists against the Guises. In 1570 an advantageous peace seemingly put an end to this contest. Coligny appeared at court, and with his adherents loaded with royal favors Charles IX. gave him 100,000 francs as an indemnification for his injuries, together with a seat in the council.

But Coligny had powerful enemies. As he was leaving the Louvre one August day to 1572 his arm was wounded by a shot fired from a window by one Maureland. The attempted assassination was planned by that admirable lady Catherine d'Medici, probably with the knowledge of the Duke of Guise.

King Charles caused a search to be made for the assassin at the moment when the massacre of the Protestants was already prepared. The slaughter began on the night of St. Bartholomew's, August 24, 1572. Admiral Coligny was among the first to fall when the bloodhounds of religion were loosed of their leashes the Duke of Guise hastened with a considerable following to the house of the admiral.

One Belma, or Besma, at their head, entered with drawn sword, pierced the brave admiral, who was unarmed with his sabre and threw the body out of the window.

For three days the populace made merry over the body, as a cat over a mouse. Finally the admirable crowd having whittled its fury, hung the body by the foot to a gibbet. Montmorency, a cousin of Coligny, had it taken down and secretly buried in the chapel of the castle of Chantilly.

CURIOUS CONDENSATIONS

(Taken from Exchanges.)
Heidelberg is to have a special institute for experiments with radium in treating diseases.

St. Petersburg is to have modern systems of drainage and water supply by compulsory construction under Government supervision.

Sir Richard Whittington, the "Dick" of the nursery tale who went to London to seek his fortune and found it by the help of his cat, survives in fact as well as fiction.

Mrs. Sofia Loebinger was elected president of the new organization of suffragettes which was recently formed in New York City. It is composed entirely of wage-earning women.

At the beginning of the present year Japan had 3,308 telegraph offices and the lines were 5,587 miles long, with a total length of wire 13,227 miles. Nearly 8,000,000 telegrams were handled last year.

Although the Manchester Ship Canal failed to pay in the earlier years of its operation, it is today carrying a big tonnage and providing a profitable investment.

The Prince Regent has proposed to release all the slaves in the employ of the princes, dukes and others for ever and prohibit the employment of such slaves in China.

At the close of the fiscal year 1908 the railroad mileage of the United States was 230,000 as compared with 36,832 in 1838 and 184,648 in 1898. The net capitalization is $13,400,000,712, an increase of 39.8 per cent over the figures of 1898.

How huge is the cost of underground railways is shown in a comparison of the total cost of all the subway systems of London, with the total cost of the railway system of Ireland. The latter includes 3,183 miles of road and its total cost was $222,500,000. The railway lines of London, which aggregate 144 miles, have cost about $137,500,000.

In China not only girls, but boys have names. When a boy is born he gets a nursery name, later his teacher gives him a school name; when he is given the cap of manhood is official name is given him; and finally he selects a name for himself or friends to call him by and for others.

MIDSUMMER CONFERENCE OF NATIONAL CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION IS SCHEDULED.

SESSION WILL BE HELD AT Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

PURPOSE IS TO DISCUSS SECRET SOCIETIES TO WHICH THE ASSOCIATION IS OPPOSED.

SECRETARY

Of the Y. M. C. A. Will Not Permit the N. C. A. to Use Hall. Since the accompanying article together with the program of the proposed midsummer session of the "N. C. A." were placed in type, Secretary Eberhardt, of the Y. M. C. A., brought the following to the News editorial rooms, and requested its publication:

CANCELLED.

The meeting advertised to be held in the Y. M. C. A. hall, July 26th and 27th, to discuss secret societies, will not be held at that place. The nature of the meeting was not fully understood when the hall was rented for the purpose. The Y. M. C. A. has no desire to cast reflections upon any society, nor to be misunderstood as doing so, by renting their hall to those who do. It is hoped that this notice will be sufficient to set right those who may think otherwise.

Beginning next Monday evening, a two-days' session will be held in this city, by the Ohio branch of the National Christian Association. This meeting, according to the programs which have been forwarded ahead, is a "midsummer conference to discuss secret societies," the organization being opposed to secret orders is evidenced by the following which appears on the printed program, as being quoted from R. A. Forrey, an evangelist:

"I do not see how an uneducated, uneducated Christian can belong to a secret order. It is an open rebellion against God's plan of command (1 Cor. 6:11). Furthermore, the awful mystery of the Masonic prayer in the pretended reconstruction of the Master Mason degree must shock beyond measure any man of real spirituality. Some of the oaths at higher degrees of Masonry must be horrible beyond expression to any man possessed of genuine Christian sentiment."

Following is the program for the conference.

CHAPTER XI.

A CLASH OF WILL.

IT required some minutes for Daniel to get his bearings after the shock of the surprise. He was in a room which he had never seen before. He was in a room which he had never seen before.

His usual up-and-down method of proceeding in the proper direction, and the dazed look on his face remained there until Mariano came to tell him that his rooms were ready and that Herr von Grollenhagen was waiting him. Then for the first time he awoke, and, with a sigh of resignation as he realized the battle he had before him, he gave a curt order that the automobile, which had broken down on the road to the hotel, should be placed in the entrance garden, for he proposed to do some tinkering upon it.

"If that don't beat"—he muttered to himself and then allowed the remark to remain unfulfilled, for he could not imagine one thing that the incident could be supposed to have beaten. It stood alone in a little hollow square by itself and positively refused to surrender to any comparison whatsoever.

"And that—that—mere centimetre of a man," he growled at the thought of the man who had asked for any settlement.

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER.

Special to the Daily News.

By CATHERINE MANN-PAYZANT

New York, July 22.—The lingerie gown is the all-important gown now that the warm weather has come upon us. In fact, there is a distinct craze for it, and while the lingerie gown has been several seasons of leadership it is still chosen for it is the dressiest mode, capable of many changes and withal very cool—the most suitable warm weather dress.

It might be thought a difficult matter to find either new models or designs, but the stories fairly teem with new ideas. Moreover, the lingerie gown may be found in all sorts of patterns, some with little or no elaboration and entirely suitable for mornings, or occasions where a plain gown is the appropriate mode, or it may be of a grade as fine as a gown and beautifully ornamented with lace and embroideries and all sorts of fine stitchery.

The lingerie gown has the great advantage of cleaning easily or laundering well and may be done over and over again. This season the fashion of colored linings makes it possible to get a complete change of effect, which should be added to the white ship provided.

The idea of different sets of accessories should never be forgotten, as with a soft lavender or blue slip a belt and a few bows to match, or with pink a pretty sash of Dresden showing much pink in it and a coral necklace two pretty changes are effected.

Part and all lace gowns are a feature of this summer's modes and often two or more laces are combined in the same frock. The lace gown is always a dressy one and never appropriate for the street or for morning wear.

Irish lace seems to still retain its hold upon popular fancy, and it is used in combination with chiffon bands to form the gown, indeed the chiffon and Irish lace gown is more becoming than the all lace gown as this lace is particularly still and harsh next the face.

Valenciennes is liked better by many than Irish lace and gowns of the same in combination with chiffon or fine batiste are becoming, while Spanish lace is used frequently upon green silk gowns.

There is a decided trimness in the fit of all gowns, for young girls this season and even in the separate bodices there is little blouse in front, in the back, and on the sides the waist must be held down smooth and flat under the belt.

Taffeta batiste is a material that is strongly akin to the lingerie effects when done up with laces and embroideries. This material is reserved for the afternoons and while the white effects are charming those in delicate shades of pink, blue and green are deliciously cool and dainty to the eye.

Some of the new lawns with embroidered borders when made up over colored slips are very attractive for afternoon dresses and also make pretty dancing frocks for the summer resort. I saw a gown the other day, very fetching and easily developed. At a big sale of embroideries a piece of flouncing deep enough for a skirt had been found which was tucked finely at the top fluting closely over the hips and falling plainly in its long lines to the feet.

The slip was in white cotton meshing a beautiful soft material for this use. The waist was made over a bodice lining which really amounts to nothing more than a support about the waist. The embroidery had been draped in surplus fashion back and front with under arm portions and a bit of the embroidery for a shallow yoke that filled in the V formed by the surplus. The sleeves were shaped by the two seams with two edges of the embroidery coming at the top of the arm and laced together with a tiny white silk cord.

Another gown—worn at one of the large affairs here—was of a very fine French linen of beautiful texture and weavy. The skirt was plain and of many gores which were joined with a big embroidered line that resembled a cord having first been padded. The upper part of the bodice was ornamented with a close pattern of eyelet embroidery the waist resembling bolero laid over a chiffon under waist and an embroidered belt deep as a handbreadth with deep scallops gave the waist the effect of the Empire. Around the low neck and under the edges of the embroidered sleeves finished in scallops also were bands of blue silk. Needless to say the figure must be slight to wear this.

No material seems to serve so many purposes as pongee. One may see a rather coarse grained variety of the natural color and with white collars and cuffs a most serviceable morning or business suit is ready; or if for the latter purpose only it is wished pongees in dark brown and blue are to be had at very reasonable prices.

For such a gown select a model which shows some plaiting in the skirt for while all skirts fit well over the hips, there are plaited flounces let in here and there below the knees which give a considerable flare. The sleeves should not be too full nor too small, nor the waist line too high for it is whispered that skirts will be wider this autumn, the shoulder line broader, and the belt in almost normal position.

A number of one-piece pongee gowns are to be had and beautiful embroidery done on pongee with the most beautiful effects are to be had. The latter are very elaborate and suitable only to such times as when a dressy effect is in keeping with the occasion. Those for afternoons are usually made with the separate trimmings applied to suit. One model, which, finished in the back with only a few wide tucks, is fastened in the front, a little to one side, all the way down from collar to hem with large buttons, covered with the material itself, is exceedingly pretty. At the throat is a little guimpe of finest batiste, tucked and trimmed with narrowst lace. This guimpe is only buttoned underneath into the waist so that it can be freshened whenever necessary. Waist and skirt are all in one, but joined with a snugly fitting belt of the pongee and the bodice and skirt must fit to perfection in such an extremely plain but exceedingly smart little gown. A soft tie of black or bright toned silk gives a becoming color contrast.

The gingham of this summer are exceedingly fine and are no more like the gingham of the old days than many other materials are like their namesakes of years back. They are made up in the most simple fashions but with a cut and finish that are effective and decidedly smart.

In only a few of the pongee or linen dresses is there any yoke at the back this season, for the material comes to the edge of the collar. The front may be of any shape best liked the square style being perhaps most often seen.

The collarless gown with some sort of fancy trimming is much used for gowns to be worn at the seashore or the country or at any time when such effects that are closely akin to the negligee will be in good taste, but for business or for street wear its use is always questionable.

The new light traveling wrap, made of soft China silk, or pongee, takes little room, keeps off the dust effectually and is very gracefully draped. It is one of the adaptations of the known but a very artistic one.

The newest in motor hats is the patent lather hat with deep brim, it is easily cleaned from dust, sheds the rain, and is a fine thing for the long journeys taken today.

CHANGING SENTIMENT.

Oliver Goldsmith's "Deserted Village."

Goldsmith in his "Deserted Village," spoke of a certain chapel where those who "went to school, remained to pray." So in life one often laughs at what he does not understand and, later, when he does understand, his laugh turns to praise. There were some who doubted the merits of Newbro's "Herpicide," the scalp germicide and hair-dressing; but since they have tried it, they are now among its best friends and strongest endorsers.

Herpicide kills the germ that eats the hair off at the root, and the hair then grows again. As a hair dressing it is incomparable—try it, sold by leading druggists. OLIVE OIL TALK.

The medicinal and beautifying qualities of pure Olive Oil are numerous and are becoming better known every day. There is nothing like it for overcoming a generally run-down and weakened condition of the sys-

fresh, gradually overcome indig-

beneficial when rubbed over the whole body after bathing,

SEMI-ANNUAL DEPOSIT
AT FIVE PER CENT
SAFE SECURE CONVENIENT
FOR SAVINGS AND DEPOSITS.

Nine years ago The Lima Home Savings Association began paying 5 per cent for deposits in any amount with privilege of compound interest. On account of the safe and secure manner in which such deposits have been handled, many people of large and small means, have accepted the very liberal opportunity of having their funds invested at a rate that is worth while, until nearly $353,000.00 have accumulated earning 5 per cent. These deposits are used by this Association only for loans on city and farm homes in Lima and vicinity. Nothing but first mortgages are taken to secure these loans; ample insurance is required for the Association's protection, as well as frequent reduction of principal.

Another feature of safety is the annual examination by state authority to which this Association is subjected. The last examination was completed on the 20th of May, 1909, and included an investigation of all of the Association's investments and securities.

All persons with money to lay by at the liberal rate this Association has been paying for many years, who are seeking a place where safety, security and convenience are in every transaction of its business, are invited to its office in the Masonic Building, west of the post-office, Lima, Ohio.

JUDGE

HURIN, WELL KNOWN HERE,
WEDS TOLEDO GIRL.

WILL RESIDE IN FINDLAY,
AFTER HONEYMOON IN FAR NORTH.

Judge Silas E. Hurin, of the circuit court district to which Allen county belongs, and who resides in Findlay, was one of the principals in a very pretty wedding which occurred in Toledo on Monday, when he won for his bride, Miss Mary Ruth Locke, of that city.

The wedding occurred at high noon on Monday in Trinity Chapel, the Rev. J. M. Hunter officiating. The bride, who entered on the arm of her cousin, Mr. Robinson Locke, was charming in a white shantung coat suit, elaborately braided in black, and wore a large white hat trimmed with roses. She carried a white prayer book. Mr. Robinson Locke gave the bride away.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding luncheon was served at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. D. R. Locke. On the long table to the dining room, covers were laid for twenty close friends and relatives, the centerpiece being of exquisite Killarney roses.

Later in the afternoon Judge and Mrs. Hurin left for a six weeks' trip to Nova Scotia, and upon their return will be at home to their friends at 1225 south Main street, Findlay.

OHIO MAN WAS STARVING.

Evansville, Ind., July 22.—With no food for five days and sleeping in box cars for several nights, Jacob Owens, aged 51, claiming to live at Columbus, Ohio, was picked up here today unconscious and sent to a hospital. He may die. Owens came to Evansville to look for work.

HUNTING

For the Votes Which Are Needed According to Aldrich

THE PRESIDENT FINDS THAT HE STILL HAS PLENTY OF REELS TO DEAL WITH.

BORAH, OF IDAHO STATE, JOINS THE INSURGENTS.

RETURNS FROM THE "CARPET" AND REPORTS THAT MR. TAFT STANDS FOR FREE HIDES.

Special to The Daily News.

Washington, July 21.—Although there are many minor developments of an interesting character in the tariff situation today, the gastronomic conference at the White House last night was the thing of paramount importance.

Evidently for the purpose of preparing themselves for the great banquet which the president had arranged for the joint conference committee got together yesterday and adjusted between the Senate and House bills.

This was a kind of practice work in anticipation of the more notable performance scheduled for last night. But no progress whatever was made with the so-called raw material schedules, and after one or two languid efforts, coal, lumber, hides from ores and petroleum were passed over to be considered at the executive dinner table.

But during the day the President still hunting for the votes Senator Aldrich said he would have to get in order to pass the bill amended as to the raw materials in the manner desired by him, had talks with several of the rebellious spirits in the Senate, and invited others to call tomorrow.

Borah Joins Insurgents.

Borah, of Idaho, who joined the Senate insurgents at their powwow yesterday afternoon, was summoned but the only thing he reported to them afterward was that the President desired to stand for free hides and assured him that there would be compensatory reduction in the duty on shoes and other leather goods.

In this connection, it may be said the Senate conferees agreed to accept the House rate of 15 per cent. ad valorem on shoes this afternoon, as against 20 per cent. fixed by the Senate.

But Borah is more concerned over the inclusion of the corporation tax than anything else, for he is one of the most ardent advocates of the income tax in Congress.

The insurgents of the Senate, like the insurgents and the anti-free raw material members of the House, realized that they would have to await the outcome of the White House conference before determining upon the final course they will pursue. Doubtless of Iowa, whose greatest fight was made against the textile schedules, will see the President in the morning, and while with him will ascertain if he is willing to stand for reduction in the rates on cotton and woolen fabrics.

In response to the complaints concerning the cotton schedule the President last week directed the Secretary of the Treasury to report whether the allegations made by Dilliver on the floor of the Senate were justified.

Turn Their Hair.

Dilliver and his fellow rebels figuratively tore their hair when they learned that the matter had been referred to the board of general appraisers in New York, who reported that there was no foundation for the criticism against the cotton schedule; and well might they rave, because the appraisers who made the report were the ones who assisted Senator Aldrich in writing the schedule. Beveridge, of Indiana, turned a few flips when it was reported to him that there was a strong likelihood of his amendment, increasing the revenue taxes on various forms of manufactured tobacco produced by the tobacco trust, being thrown out in conference. It was stated to him that the treasury department was not friendly to the increases, but when he called up Secretary MacVane the latter told him that was not correct. However, Beveridge is suspicious of what might happen and will keep his eagle eye on the conferees until they conclude their deliberations.

The Ohio Valley states were very well represented at another caucus of the anti-free raw material members of the house this afternoon. These men are so designated to distinguish them from the regular house insurgents who are the fellows that object, not to raw materials being placed on the free list, but to many of the other rates in the bill as passed by the House as having been too high.

VALUE OF SHEEP

Can Be Legally Fined Only by County Commissioners.

Special to The Daily News.

Columbus, O., July 22.—The long-cherished belief that the appraisers and the township trustees had the right to finally fix the value of sheep killed by dogs was upset by an opinion from the attorney-general to Prosecuting Attorney O. W. Kearns, of Van Wert county. There the county commissioners reduced the value of certain sheep $4 a head after the value had been fixed according to what was thought to be the law. The attorney-general holds that the commissioners have final authority in the premises.

TWO SHOT

IN KENOSHA STRIKE AND RIOTING IS CONTINUING.

By United Press.

Kenosha, July 22.—The strike at the N. R. Allen & Sons tannery has developed threatening conditions, and this morning two of the strikers were shot down by the guards placed about the buildings.

The sheriff admits he is unable to control the situation and has asked the governor for troops. The rioting is continuing throughout the day and serious results are feared, with possible loss of life and destruction of much property.

has the right only to fill such vacancies as have occurred by the nominee dropping off the ticket or account of death or other reasons. Link Section 34 bears out this construction when carefully read. You will note that the section begins as follows: "In case of a vacancy or vacancies in the list of nomination occurring by death or otherwise." It is apparent, therefore, that the vacancy referred to is not a vacancy upon the ticket, but a vacancy in the list of nominations. It follows therefore, that if the party fails to nominate, the committee cannot fill such vacancy.

No Show for the Delaware Man.

Application having been made by Delaware Democrat to be appointed financial officer of the Girls Industrial Home in that county, Superintendent S. D. Webb requested a decision from the attorney-general as to whether the appointment could be lawfully made. In an opinion made public it is held that the application cannot be considered, as the law provides that the financial officer of any state institution must be a resident of another county from that in which it is located. This, it may be added, applies as well to stewards of these institutions, the difference being only in the name of the office.

Brown May Resign.

Walter F. Brown, chairman of the Republican state central committee, had a meeting Wednesday with Secretary Malcolm F. Karshner in this city, the result of which was the fixing of a call for a meeting of that body for July 29 at 1:30 p. m. in this city, at the Neil House.

The committee will take up the settlement of the dispute in Henry and Clermont counties as to the nomination of members of the boards of election therein. In Henry county the committee, headed by J. B. Linthicum, has endorsed Okeke M. Palmer, and that headed by A. E. Augenstein has endorsed Usher V. Fisher. In Clermont county the committee, headed by Robert L. Johnson, has endorsed William H. Baum, and that headed by W. C. Bishop has endorsed Charles Adams.

Chairman Brown in discussing party matters Wednesday intimated that he was considering the advisability of retiring from the state committee, of which he has been a member from the Ninth district for ten years. The duties of the chairmanship call him away from Toledo, and there is no recompense for the loss of time and money that it involves. The chairman, however, did not say directly that he had determined upon a retirement.

Row Settled.

Upon his return from Ironton, Secretary of State Carni A. Thompson announced the settlement of the Democratic row in Lawrence county over the appointment of a member of the board of elections. He found on investigation that five members of a committee of nine had signed the recommendation of Fred Mahle. It was therefore decided that Roberts should receive the appointment and his name will go upon the official appointment order next month.

Booming Okay.

The Democracy of Monroe county was represented at the capitol Wednesday by Judge Thompson, Prosecuting Attorney A. C. Denbow, William Lude and Representative E. E. Miller. They came to push the claims of William J. Okey, of Woodfield, for appointment as a district inspector in the office of Workshop and Factory Inspector Kearns. State Treasurer David Staley Cramer was enlisted in the campaign and Mr. Okey's merits were fully extolled. No fruit was gathered, however, as both Governor Harmon and Inspector Kearns are away from the city.

Boards Its Legality.

Members of the boards of deputy state supervisors of elections are debarred from selling goods either for themselves or agents to the county which they represent, or to the cities within that county. This is the opinion published by the attorney-general in response to an inquiry coming from Prosecuting Attorney John A. Cline, of Cuyahoga county. The reservation is made, however, in the opinion that the mind of the attorney-general is not free from doubt as to the legality of the decision, the members of the board being in reality state and not local officers.

SEA WALL

At Galveston Won Fierce Battle Against Wind and Wave

BUT LITTLE DAMAGE WAS DONE AND NOT A LIFE WAS LOST IN CITY.

FEARS ENTERTAINED FOR RESORTS ALONG COAST.

WIRES ARE DOWN AND COMMUNICATION IS AS YET IMPOSSIBLE.

Special to The Daily News.

Galveston, Texas, July 22.—The city of Galveston sends greetings to her sister cities, the people of the United States and of the world in that at this hour it has just passed through a most remarkable storm, manifesting in its course some of the most violent incidents common to the storm of 1900, and its great sea wall has completely vindicated its efficiency and protected the city against damage from the sea leaving only such insignificant damages as are incident to all storms.

The great wharves and shipping interests suffered no damage and not a life was lost. Lewis Fisher, Mayor. James Stewart, President Security Building Company. M. E. Kleberg, City Attorney. V. E. Audin, Commissioner of Streets. E. O. Flood, President Chamber of Commerce. B. Adoue, President Maritime Association.

Galveston, Texas, July 21.—Cut off from communication with the outer world, Galveston today plied its sea wall against the fury of wind and wave, and won.

Though the wind reached a maximum velocity of 70 miles an hour and thousands of tons of water were hurled against the masonry breakwater which surrounds the densely settled portion of the city, not one life was lost on Galveston Island.

Ten persons were drowned when Bettison's fishing pier, on the north jetty, collapsed under the onslaught of the angry waters and was washed away. Among the victims were the proprietor of the place, Robert L. Bettison, his wife and daughter.

Was Quickly Repaired.

This pier was repaired in less than two hours.

The bridge over which all trains enter the city will be repaired in 24 hours, and rail communications re-established.

The first word sent out was the message that man's skill and ingenuity, as exemplified by the sea wall, had vanquished the God of destruction.

The hurricane swept the entire gulf coast with an intensity and viciousness that has seldom been equaled in a country where destructive storms are not unusual.

It had its origin on the Atlantic coast and swung westward and southward, devastating the entire gulf coast even as far south as Madagascar Bay.

Exact Loss Unknown.

That some lives were lost and that much property was destroyed is the general belief tonight. With wires down and railroad communication cut off the exact loss is impossible to estimate.

The hurricane struck Galveston about 11 o'clock this morning. The wind, attaining a velocity of nearly 70 miles an hour, whipped the treacherous waters of the Mexican Gulf into a fury of destruction and blindly assailed the grim parapets of stone which man had built to restrain its attacks.

In vain it hurled its thousands of tons of water upon the splendid breakwaters. Only a feeble burst of spray and a little water reached the beleaguered city.

Outside the limits of the city, where the wall had not been reared and where the city had not been elevated the waters had their way, but they wrecked only deserted huts and abandoned territory.

In this section of the city, which is low and sparsely settled, the water rose to a height of seven feet, but the weather bureau warning had been heeded and the inhabitants had removed their possessions out of the danger zone.

From other cities in the affected area come tales of narrow escapes and much destruction of property. The only anxiety expressed now is for the smaller towns, villages and summer resorts, with which the gulf coast is so thickly settled.

At Mercy of Waves.

In the history of other gulf storms it has been the villages which suffered most from the waters, but the entire gulf coast is very low and offers absolutely no protection from the storm of waves.

A GIANT IN FEATHERS

By JOHN R. CORYELL

PIERRE CHARTONNE was not by any means the least excited person on the French fleet which cast anchor in Rafala Bay, Madagascar, on a certain day some three hundred years ago.

Pierre was to go ashore for the first time in more than a year. The captain had promised that in the morning he would accompany the men who were going to look for fresh water.

The next morning, with his beloved blunderbuss borne upon his shoulder, Pierre stepped proudly on the beach, ready and anxious to meet the savage men and curious wild beasts he felt sure he was going to see.

Shortly before dinner-time it was proposed that some of the sailors should try to shoot a few of the birds of which the forest seemed full; for fresh meat to a sailor is one of the greatest of luxuries, and it seemed a pity to do without it when it was directly at hand. Here was an opportunity which Pierre did not let pass. He entreated his commanding officer so earnestly to let him be one of the shooting-party that consent was given.

Pierre, blunderbuss in hand, and three sailors started for the forest.

An hour later, the three men hurried down to the beach laden with game, but without Pierre. Where he was they did not know; they had missed him more than half an hour before, and supposed he had returned to the beach.

"Here he is now," suddenly exclaimed one of the men.

And there indeed he was, hatless and in haste. As quickly as his short legs could carry him he was tearing through the underbrush; and as he drew nearer the men on the beach could see that he was frightened.

When he reached the alarmed sailors, he sank, panting and exhausted on the sand. To all their hurried questions he could only gasp out, "After me!" and point to the forest. Whereupon they all gathered eagerly about him to hear his story.

"After me had gone about two miles into the forest," he began, "I left the others, because I thought we would be more game in two parties than in one."

"A little while after I had left them I saw what looked like a large, round white stone in the thick brush. I thought I might as well find out what it was, and made my way to it, and I give you my word, it was a great big egg—bigger than a jar-bucket. I made up my mind to carry it back to the ship to take home, though it was heavy while I stood with it in my arms, thinking of the dirt that was on the under side, and then I shook so that I nearly dropped the egg. I got behind a tree near by and stooped down so that

"I'll tell you fortune, Turkey Turk," our little Lucy said.

"Oh, thank you kindly," said the fowl, "I shall be delighted. My wishbone whispers I was meant to live among the great."

"Consult the cards," sweet Lucy said, "and you will learn your fate."

"I am no crystal gazer," I heard our Lucy say, "But these cards mean a journey upon the Great White Way."

"Hear kings and queens will cross your path, if I am not mistaken. These diamonds mean you will be dressed in taste for any station."

I could see through the bushes what kind of a bird was coming.

"I never saw such a thing in my life before! Maybe you won't believe me, but that bird made so much noise as it came through the bushes that I thought it was a herd of cattle. And when it came to where I could see it, each of its legs looked as big round as my leg, and it was as tall as a small tree. And such a beak as it had!"

"It went directly to the spot where the egg had been, and then I was frightened, for I knew if it caught me with the egg, I'd be eaten up in a minute. But I didn't dare to move. When the monstrous creature missed the egg, it set up an awful squawk. Then I dropped the egg and ran in the direction that seemed clearest of trees."

"The bird ran, too, for I could hear it crashing through the bushes, and I expected every minute to be taken in its big mouth. By and by I couldn't run any more, and fell down, when five big birds similar to the one I had already seen came leaping along straight at me. I lifted my gun, but before I could shoot, the first bird had run over me and knocked me down."

"I jumped up and ran, and I didn't stop running till I found you, and here I am."

"Is that all?" asked one of the men, sarcastically, when Pierre had ceased speaking.

"Well," said the man, "if I were going to make up a yarn I'd try to have it reasonable, or end in something exciting."

"But I didn't make it up!" exclaimed Pierre, indignantly.

"All I'm sorry for," said one of the men, "is that he didn't bring the egg with him. It would have made such a rare omelet."

At this the sailors laughed.

As long as Pierre lived he was known as Big-Bird Pierre, for he could get nobody to believe him. Since his time, however, more has been learned of Madagascar, the island where Pierre landed; and though nobody has seen a living bird such as Pierre described, eggs and skeletons of the birds have been found, and judging from them, it is no wonder that the little French boy was frightened.

The egg is larger than a football, and would, it is calculated, hold as much as one hundred and sixty hens' eggs. As for the bird, it was of the same family as the ostrich, but was more than twice as tall and proportionately heavier, so that, towering as it did a man's height above the tallest elephant, it must have been a startling bird to see for the first time unexpectedly.

The apocryphal, as the bird is called, does not exist now, but Mr. Wallace, the great naturalist, thinks that all the indications are that it may have lived within the last two centuries.

"What makes you strut so proudly?" the barnyard hens all cried.

"Miss Lucy told my fortune," the Turkey Turk replied. "At the four hundred's table a place is waiting me. I am no social climber, but a Turk of high degree."

Thanksgiving Day the Turkey found that fortune had not lied.

When placed upon the table the dinner guests all cried— "A splendid bird! a noble fowl!" they eyed him with elation.

"An empty honor," Turkey sighed, "to rise above one's station."

QUESTION

Of Taxing A High Form
Luxury Is Now Being Discussed

SEA GOING YACHTS OF THE MILLIONAIRES MAY BE PUT ON THE NEW TAX LIST.

PLEASURE CRAFTS HAVE HERETOFORE BEEN FREE.

RETURNS TO UNCLE SAM UNDER THE PROPOSED TONNAGE
SCHEDULE WOULD BE WORTH WHILE.

Special to the Daily News.
Washington, D. C., July 22.—Whether a tariff shall be placed on ocean-going yachts, usually considered the highest form of luxury, is a question that is being quietly fought out at the capitol.

Yachts are free under the Dingley law, and, although shipbuilders and others asked the house to ratify it of 75 per cent, they remained free in the Payne bill. The senate tariff bill, as it stands, places a duty of 30 per cent on all yachts and other pleasure boats.

This would apply to motor boats, but it is explained that practically the only craft of this kind imported is the ocean-going yacht of the multi-millionaire. Lawyers employed by men of wealth are actively canvassing members of the senate and house, in an effort to have yachts made free, or to give owners an option of paying an annual tonnage tax of $7.

In the case of the highest-class yacht, the tonnage tax would be a very small fraction of the amount represented by a duty of 30 per cent.

Would Mean a Million.
Six rich men last year bought yachts abroad, at a total cost of $3,000,000. With the Aldrich duty enforced, they would have been obliged to pay the government $1,000,000. With a tonnage tax, they would pay Uncle Sam about $40,000 a year.

Those who contend for a duty argue that yachts, being a luxury, is most suitable as an object of taxation. They also claim that all the furnishings of yachts, the fine cabinet work, china, glassware and silverware, are by the present law, allowed to come in free.

A sermon on the text, "Let There Be Light," was delivered the other day during the tariff debate, by Senator Gore, the stone-blind statesman from Oklahoma. Although he was referring mainly to intellectual light his sightlessness combined with his eloquence deeply impressed his colleagues. The sermon was a part of the peroration of his speech in favor of free print paper.

"Mr. President," he said, "the first recorded utterances of the Most High God was 'Let there be light.' This has ever been the battle of human progress. This has ever been and must be the watchword of advancing civilization. The nation that advances this mandate must relapse into primal chaos and intellectual night. There are kindreds among the sons of men who are still thrall to the power of darkness. There are senators who seem dedicated to darkness rather than light.

"Notwithstanding the first fiat of omnipotence was, 'Let there be light,' yet this senate, in defiance of the decree, sets up its party enactment, 'Let there be no light.'"

"Mr. President, whether physical, intellectual, or moral, light is a blessing to be sought and not an evil to be shunned. I would not place a meter upon the eyelids of the people and charge them for the joyous sunbeams. I would not annul or defy the ordinance of the Almighty. I would say now and forever, 'Let there be light.'"

With the manner of one making a hit, Senator Page, of Idaho, some Idaho statesman of last February, with the suggestion that they were up to date. But the stalwart Senator from the Coeur d'Alene county came back with this view of things.

"Idaho ten days ago is not the Idaho of today. The Senator probably does not realize that; but when he sees a city, the county seat, of a new county that is not two years old, nor a year and a half old with 11,000 people in it, the Senator probably will be glad to understand something about it. I telegraph when I want to know about Idaho. I do not even dare trust to the time elapsing between the mails for fear conditions will change. That is the kind of State to live in."

The mere matter of a tooth brush has gotten Private Joseph Oken, of Company I, Third Infantry, into a lot of trouble.

Records of his court-martial, at Fort George Wright, Washington received at the War Department show that Joseph has been dishonorably discharged from the service, forfeiting all pay and allowances due him. He has been sent to prison for three months at hard labor—all because he failed to put a tooth brush in his kit for company formation then asked his commanding officer when reprimanded for his dereliction.

Will Request Council to Enact A New Ordinance

UNDER WHICH PRISONERS ARRESTED FOR DRUNKENNESS MAY BE PUNISHED.

TOLEDO PROBATE COURT RELEASES ADAM SCHICK

ON A WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS, FINDING OLD ORDINANCE TO BE INVALID.

Tuesday afternoon, Mayor Fred C. Becker and City Solicitor W. L. Rogers held a session in the former's office, for the purpose of drafting a new city ordinance, which the solicitor will submit to the city council, and which both he and Mayor Becker will request the city's legislative body to enact with all possible and reasonable haste. The ordinance which is desired is one which will provide a suitable penalty which the mayor will be authorized to impose in cases of drunkenness, the city being, just now, without an ordinance declaring it unlawful to wear "skates" of the inebriate kind, and affording a suitable penalty for offenders of this class.

It has long been known that the "drunk" ordinance under which offenders of this class have been punished would not hold "water" in the event of its validity being questioned through the proper channels by an attorney, but so long as the old measure was not attacked it was sufficient for the ordinary emergencies. But then, a few days ago, one Adam Schick, who had been a frequent offender, was sentenced to the Toledo workhouse on a charge of drunkenness, his attorney, John Klatte, followed him to the Lucas county jail and secured his release from the "works," on a writ of habeas corpus, which was secured in the Lucas county probate court, the court finding the Lima city ordinance under the provisions of which the prisoner had been committed to the workhouse, to be invalid.

Until such time as the city council shall enact a new ordinance providing for the punishment of offenders in the plain drunk line, Mayor Becker will arraign all offenders of this class under a state law, but he is anxious for the immediate enactment of a new ordinance in order that the city of Lima may get the benefit of the fines and costs collected in such cases.

Wilson Sent to Jail.

Tom Wilson, the man who was arrested a few days ago, charged with having stolen a pair of trousers at the Limbaugh store, on east Wayne street, pleaded guilty, Thursday afternoon and was sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars and costs, and to serve twenty days' imprisonment in the county jail.

MOTORMAN

A STOP JUST IN TIME.

TO PREVENT A COLLISION WITH AN AUTOMOBILE WHICH WAS BEING DRIVEN BY WOMAN.

A serious accident was narrowly averted at Wapakoneta, Wednesday, when limited car, number 211, south bound, on the Western Ohio, nearly ran down an automobile containing four persons.

The car had just left the station and was going at a good rate of speed. At the corner of Vine street, an auto was crossing the track just in front of the car. The machine was driven by a lady who, it is thought, was just learning to run it. She became excited and shut off the power, stopping with the rear wheels on the track, directly in front of the approaching car. Motorman Charles Hale threw on the brakes at once, and then applied his reverse motor. The car stopped within a few inches of the machine.

Had it not been for the cool head of the motorman the lady would have been seriously hurt, perhaps killed, and the machine completely demolished. The other occupants of the auto had jumped when they saw the danger they were in.

SOLUTION

FOR CLEANING THE STREETS
AND A SAVING MAY BE THE RESULT.

SOCIAL VISIT OF BIG MANUFACTURER TO CITY

BRINGS UP THE QUESTION AND INVESTIGATION MAY SOON FOLLOW.

While enroute home from New York, Louis Kindling of Milwaukee, the largest cigar manufacturer, stopped off for a day's visit with his old-time friend, Henry G. Wenner. During the social talk regarding Lima, the matter of street cleaning came up, and Mr. Kindling, who is also interested in the manufacture of one of the latest improved street cleaning machines now known to the Lima man of the machine.

Mr. Wenner took the gentleman post-haste to the city hall, where Mr. Kindling gladly went into details, with the result that one of the machines may be sent here for a test. While in Berlin a few years ago the Milwaukee manufacturer learned of the new device, which was being used in the German capital at the time and that city is noted as the cleanest in the world. Mr. Kindling purchased the American rights and today over thirty-five cities have already adopted them.

"I just stopped off to see Mr. Wenner," said the Milwaukee manufacturer when seen by The News, "and my cleaning machine came up incidentally. A year ago I placed ten of them in New York City, and on Tuesday of this week I closed a contract for fifty more to be delivered at once. It is the nearest cheapest and best way of cleaning your streets as yet adopted. I am willing to make a test of it at any time."

The city officials are already interested and expect to have one of the cleaners sent on. It requires only a team of horses and one man, only a team of horses and one man street, then sweeps it clean by means of brushes.

MURRAY AND MACKAY CO.

"Convict 998" was produced last evening by the Murray and Mackay company at the Pavilion theatre on south Main street near the bridge, and gave excellent satisfaction.

The play abounds in exciting climaxes and, while not improbable in any way, gets the nerves a tingling at the thrilling situations.

Florence Murray did capital work and has proven herself a very versatile actress. She costumed her parts with rare taste, and some of the gowns worn during the week have never been excelled in this city. J. M. Donavin gave a life interpretation of the actor, and for quiet, effective work carried off the honors. The specialties—all changed—came in for plentiful applause, and it was the unanimous verdict, for the money a great show.

Tonight "The Irish Riddle," a tale of Ireland, where one hears the humorous repartee of the Celt and in this play comedy abounds. There is as many laughs as in a farce comedy and still the interest of the drama never lags.

On Saturday at 2:15 p. m. a special matinee will be given when the "Girl From Arizona" will be enacted. Prices on all parts of the pavilion theatre ten cents only.

THRILLING ESCAPE FROM

Andersonville Prison. Royal Theatre

ESCAPE FROM ANDERSONVILLE PRISON.

At the Royal theatre Thursday and Friday. Owing to the unusual interest displayed in the recent unveiling of a monument to the brutal keeper of Andersonville prison and the storm of protest from northern G. A. Veterans the management has been successful in securing this famous war film for two days only. The first view is of the Federal prisoners in the stockade their inhuman treatment by the keepers the fighting the starving dogs for a morsel of food. When night comes we observe the completeness of the tunnel the overpowering of the sentry and being assisted by a northern sympathizer whose husband is now serving under Lee in Virginia. The fugitives then start a locomotive, are pursued by a squad of Confederates on another engine, but Providence again intervenes for the second engine breaks down. The fugitives in this manner, the Rebels telegraph ahead to blow up the trestle. The station master follows instructions, races to the trestle with a keg of powder on a handcar, but arrives too late. The escaped prisoners are soon in the Union lines receiving congratulations. Several G. A. R. men in Lima were prisoners at Andersonville including Dr. Hall, and who made his escape from this prison.

FRESH FISH AT IDEAL.

HABITUAL OFFENDER

Is Deported Instead of Committed to Prison by Toledo Judge.

Special to the Daily News. Toledo, July 22. Police Judge Austin today inaugurated a new policy of disposing of habitual police court offenders when he ordered Alfred Church, colored, deported to Philadelphia.

Church has established a record without a parallel in police annals. During a residence here of nine years, police officials say he has spent practically seven of these behind prison bars.

His appearances in police court have mainly been on disturbance charges.
